The publisher of the NEW HAVEN DIRECTORY offers to the public the thirteenth Volume, with unusual confidence in the completeness and accuracy of its contents. He employed to collect the names, experienced canvassers, who performed their duties with the most searching thoroughness; and the results of their labors have been the addition of more than 2,200 names to the list, and the detection of more than 2,000 changes in places of business, residences, &c. In addition to the ordinary proof-reading of the names, one of the canvassers has read all the proofs by the original canvass-books; and this precaution has doubtless narrowed down the errors in location to a point as near perfection as can easily be obtained.

The first issue, in 1840, contained less than 2,700 names—the present volume has more than 7,000—showing an increase of more than 160 per cent. since it was begun. This relative increase is considerably more than the proportionate increase of the population in the same time; hence, if the proportion of persons proper to be registered is the same, (which it is fair to suppose,) the difference must be due to the greater diligence in collecting names this season.

The publisher has the satisfaction to furnish with this Volume, an entirely New Map of the city of New Haven, from the latest surveys, by R. Whiteford, Esq., which is as complete and accurate as it well can be. The retail price of the map is two-thirds that of the Directory; but the publisher has made an arrangement with the proprietor of the map, by which he is enabled to include it with the Directory, without any additional charge.

In the compilation of the work, the subscriber has spared no pains to make it of such a character as in the best manner to subserve the object for which it is produced; and he flatters himself that a liberal public will so appreciate his efforts as to render its publication an encouraging enterprise.

Coppersmiths, Plumbers, and Stove Dealers.

We offer for sale at satisfactory prices, for CASH or approved CREDIT, POND'S CELEBRATED UNION RANGE, (Seven Sizes.)

This Range has been thoroughly tried by some of our best citizens, who have used other kinds of ranges, and is found to be far superior to any thing else. The peculiar advantages of this Range, are apparent at a glance. The oven is twice the usual size—is above the fire, and is heated by first applying the heat at the bottom. Water backs, with open or close bath boilers, can be attached if desired. In addition to the above, we are agents for Prouty & Mears' Hot Air Furnaces.

We have set a number of the above Furnaces, the past year, and they are found to be far more economical than other kinds. A large house can be warmed thoroughly by this Furnace, with 5 tons of coal for a season. We solicit a close examination of the above Furnace and Range.—Their advantages will be seen by investigation. We warrant them as represented in all cases.

Plumbing and Coppersmithing, of every description, we are prepared to execute, in the best and most economical manner.
